A Journey Matched to Your Interests, Your Style and Your Budget

Every traveller is different — and so is every Asian Luxury Tailor Made Journey. Create a journey based on one of these themes, mix and match them, or make up your own for a journey that’s just right for you.
Food & Wine

Destinations throughout Asia are synonymous with their cuisines, so it’s no surprise many travellers experience a place best through its food. Browse a market with a local chef, and then prepare lunch together, or dine with a local family in their home for a taste of authentic hospitality.

Cultural Encounters

For many travellers, it’s people, not places, that make a journey worth remembering. A&K connects you to local people and practices that reveal your destination from a uniquely personal point of view.

Family Journeys

Luxury Tailor Made Travel offers the freedom to travel solely on your own schedule, with no conflicts with school or work. It also offers the chance to tailor the experience with every family member in mind, and A&K guides are masters at keeping all ages interested and engaged, even if it means rearranging a day’s activities on the fly.

Group Travel

A&K excels at planning travel for custom groups, whether a professional or alumni association, museum society, or a local seniors’ group. Travel on an itinerary packed with sightseeing, activities and guest speakers that all reflect your group’s focus and interests.

Art & Architecture

Art museums, theater tickets, tours of temples — when it comes to art and architecture, some travellers can’t get enough. Luxury Tailor Made Journeys connect you with local artists for private visits to their studios, or with collectors who take you on a guided tour of their favorite galleries.

Celebrate with Travel

A birthday, anniversary or retirement — whatever the milestone, a Luxury Tailor Made Journey in Asia is the perfect way to commemorate it. Celebrate your birthday with a fun, exclusive one-on-one with an astrologer in India, or mark an anniversary with an unforgettable Champagne breakfast at sunrise at Angkor Wat.

China & Mongolia

Delve into China’s cultural treasures and the wilds of Mongolia with privileged access to Beijing’s Forbidden City, the Terra Cotta Warriors of Xian and Ulaanbaatar’s time-honored Naadam Festival.
Go

From city to city and region to region, every destination holds a unique appeal. Go where your dreams lead you, with help from these expert recommendations.

Beijing

Serving as the nation’s capital for seven centuries, Beijing’s traditionally casual pace has yielded to an embrace of modernity and expansion. Historic sites such as the Forbidden City, the Temple of Heaven, Tiananmen Square and the Great Wall are juxtaposed with an ever-growing number of high-rise hotels, gourmet restaurants, shops and art galleries. This city on the move beckons visitors to experience its enduring air of tradition as it hangs on in an era of rapid development.

Yunnan Province: Lijiang and Zhongdian

Nestled among southern China’s rivers, lakes and snow-capped Himalayan peaks, the melting pot of Yunnan Province is home to more than half of the country’s minority groups. Here, the Khampa, Han, Naxi, Lisu, Yi and Pumi peoples mingle against a backdrop of Tibetan monasteries and the pebbled paths of Lijiang’s Old Town. Evocative of James Hilton’s novel, Lost Horizon, the mythical romance of this Shangri-La remains as potent as ever.

Xian

Xian was famed throughout the ancient world for its imperial palaces, temples and silk markets. Today, the city is best known for its army of Terra Cotta Warriors, a stunning collection of more than 8,000 life-size soldier and horse figures that lay hidden for more than 2,000 years. Xian also supports a modern industrial center while preserving this rich cultural heritage.
Hong Kong

Hong Kong fronts the vast waterfront of Victoria Harbour, its dazzling skyline and electric atmosphere anchoring its iconic status as the original “East meets West” destination. Beneath its refined veneer of fashion, culture and cuisine beats the pulse of a trade and commerce powerhouse. A former British colony, today’s Hong Kong retains western influences in its educational system, relative political autonomy and freewheeling economy.

Shanghai

One of the world’s largest cities, Shanghai epitomizes modern China’s skillful balance of innovation and heritage. Fashion, finance, technology and transport propel the city forward at breakneck speed, while its historic waterfront bears witness to a colonial past. Towering forests of skyscrapers herald the city’s boundless growth as its port bustles to the incessant din of the global economy. This commercial dynamo shows its cultured side with fine dining venues, contemporary art galleries and chic shopping districts.

Guilin and Yangshuo

Set along the Li River, Guilin and Yangshuo’s limestone peaks, lush forests and sparkling clear waters have inspired generations of poets and painters. There are hills to climb, caves to explore, country roads to bike and placid lakes to cruise — offering a tranquil alternative to some of China’s more frenetic cities. Highlights include Elephant Trunk Hill and Reed Flute Cave.
Lhasa
Towering 12,000 feet above sea level, Lhasa is the birthplace of Tibetan Buddhism. The remote, eastern reaches of Lhasa remain a stronghold of Tibetan culture to this day, with the modernity brought by the Han Chinese becoming more evident in the western part of the city.

Chengdu
The capital of Sichuan Province, Chengdu is renowned for its panda research center and the magical face-changing performances of its Sichuan Opera. Once a city of cotton-rose hibiscus, satins and brocades, today’s Chengdu is a hub of teahouses, culture and commerce.

Gobi Desert
Spanning a vast swath of southern Mongolia, the Gobi Desert’s remote dune-scape affords a glimpse into a world that time forgot — a place where herdsmen tend their livestock from gers (traditional yurts), dinosaur fossils pepper the cliffsides and travellers can still escape the grid.

Ulaanbaatar
Home to Mongolia’s capital and half its population, Ulaanbaatar witnesses a daily collision of past and present. Nomads from the surrounding steppes mingle among businessmen and monks as an emerging economy flourishes in the bustling city streets.
In every corner of the globe, there are places that reveal the distinctive heritage and cultural vision of your destination. See the ones you'll cherish forever.

Landscapes of Yangshuo
With names like Elephant Trunk Hill and Reed Flute Cave, the landscapes of Yangshuo are as inspiring as they are varied. Go beyond the postcard beauty of these landmarks, learning the cultural connections that bring these breathtaking sites to life.

The Great Wall
Winding thousands of miles, the Great Wall took several dynasties to construct. Few of the world's wonders evoke such awe — or draw as many tourists. Escape to the well-preserved, less-frequented Mutianyu section of the wall, experiencing all of its grandeur with fewer crowds.

Pandas of Chengdu
The Chengdu Panda Breeding and Research Center affords a rare glimpse of China's furry ambassadors to the world. Gain access to the facility and insights from its staff, learning firsthand about the plight and preservation of this iconic endangered species.
Potala Palace

Towering over 330 feet, Lhasa’s Potala Palace was once the winter residence of the Dalai Lamas. The imposing complex of defensive fortifications, gardens, tombs and residential quarters looms dramatically over the surrounding city. Explore the winding staircases, courtyards and stupas where generations of Dalai Lamas have been laid to rest, gaining insight while monks pay their respects to this hallowed ground.

Terra Cotta Warriors of Xian

Standing 8,000 strong, the Terra Cotta Warriors of Xian bore silent watch over Emperor Qin Shi Huang’s burial grounds for more than 2,000 years. This life-size statuary army of men and horses was accidentally unearthed in 1974, setting off an archaeological sensation to rival the discovery of King Tutankhamun’s tomb. Gain insider access to the dig site, touring the latest artifacts as they are revealed during the ongoing excavation.

The Flaming Cliffs

The legendary Flaming Cliffs of Mongolia are named for the red-orange sandstone that glows brilliantly at sunrise and sunset. Rich with dinosaur fossils, the cliffs have been the site of important paleontological discoveries. Lace up your boots for a revealing exploration of the cliff’s fossil record.
Do

Immerse yourself in local life, enjoying activities selected just for you by A&K. Discover all you can do with true insider access.

Visit a Beijing Hutong
Hop in a pedicab to explore a hutong, a network of traditional neighborhoods interconnected by winding alleyways. Ride Like a Local as you glimpse rows of siheyuan (courtyard residences) and authentic slices of everyday life.

Tour the M-50 Art District
Dive into Shanghai’s booming M-50 Art District with a visit to the Museum of Contemporary Art Shanghai, the first non-profit, independently operated contemporary art institution in the city. View its diverse exhibits and feel the pulse of this exciting emerging art scene.

Walk Songzangling Monastery
Immerse yourself in the Tibetan culture of Zhongdian at the 300-year-old Songzangling Monastery, home to the Living Buddha. Surrounded by the floral wonders of the Napa forest, this area conjures up daydreams of the mythical Shangri-La.

Ride a Camel through the Gobi
Mount a Bactrian camel and explore Moltsog Els, one of the few places in the Gobi covered by sand dunes. The experience affords exceptional insight into a way of life that has endured for centuries in Central Asia.

Further, as consideration for being permitted to participate in the Activities, you release A&K, whether known or unknown, from, and agree not to sue or make claim against A&K for, property damage, cancellation of any Activities for any reason, illness, negligent rescue operations or procedures, personal injury, or death arising out of your participation in the Activities, and any activity related thereto, including transportation to and from the site of the Activities, regardless of whether such property damage, illness, personal injury, or death results from the negligence of A&K (but not its reckless, willful, or fraudulent conduct), and/or from any defect in equipment. You further agree to indemnify and hold A&K harmless with respect to any claim made against A&K by anyone else which (a) related to your participation, or (b) which would be subject to the above release and covenant not to sue if you had made the claim directly yourself.
